Dear Sir/Madam,

Re: Application for position of Senior Software Developer

I am writing to apply for the position of Senior Software Developer as advertised on the Andela website. I am eager to work at Andela as compared to any other company in Uganda because it has the best working environment, teams and conditions which can further grow my software development career.

I completed my Bachelors degree in Computer Engineering four years ago at Makerere University and I have a working experience of over seven years in problem solving and building of new technologies. Throughout my career I have solved multiple problems for both the companies & community that is on both person basis and mainly with a team of people.

As software lead, I have had a chance to manage a team of over twenty-five people both physically and spread all over the world. I have expertise in mobile (android), backend, User Interface & embedded systems development. Kindly find my Resume on the Andela Web application page for more working experience

I would be glad if my application is put in to consideration

I am looking forward to hear from you

Yours Faithfully,

Jjingo Wasaaka Kisakye
